Kandahar to get new power generators

Date : Jul 17, 2008
Category : General
Sources : BNA

At least eight new power generators will be installed in the city of southern province of Kandahar in the upcoming two weeks, Kandahar governor declared on Wednesday. Asadullah Khalid governor of the province promises the electricity problems would soon end however the locals complain power cut and outage in the city had made their lives miserable. The agreement for Kandahar electricity had been signed between Energy and Water Minister, Kandahar governor and a foreign company, Khalid assured, the company promised presenting the generators in three months a deadline which was close to end. Electricity problem in Kandahar city would end with the power generators, he added. However, locals and traders of the electric appliances complain the government had failed to address the power problems in the southern city despite many promises still unfulfilled. This basic facility has slowed down and there were several electricity cuts in this city since last 18 months and the officials keep promising for reactivating the electricity.
